Preface

Preamble to the Universal Declaration of Human Rights, 1948

“Education shall be directed to the full development of the human personality and to the strengthening of respect for human rights and fundamental freedoms. It shall promote understanding, tolerance and friendship among all nations, racial or religious groups, and shall further the activities of the United Nations for the maintenance of peace.”

Education is the back bone of any nation. If the people of the society are not educated, they will always wander in darkness. It is the education which illumines the whole society. It is the strongest means through which we can spread message and fragrance of peace, tolerance, brotherhood and understanding in every corner of the society. It helps to create a better society for all. It is rightly said, “Child without education like bird without wings.” To maintain humanity and peace in the society, it is very important to make the people aware about their rights, duties and responsibilities. Due to the lack of proper education most of the people are unaware about their fundamental rights and duties. We should not forget that India is a developing country and still about 35% people are illiterate who have never seen the face of the school and colleges. How can we expect that such people would be aware of their human rights? As we know the whole world is burning in the fire of passion, hatred, malice, anguish and a lot of other feelings. These feelings create hindrance in the development of the society and nation. This world is just like a paradise, where only peace is there. We must make this world a paradise only by spreading proper education. Yes, it is only education through which we can cure all these evil thoughts. In our ancient India, the great saints gave the slogan:

"सर्वे भवन्तु सुखिनः
सर्वे सन्तु निरामयाः
सर्वे भद्राणि पश्यन्तु
माँ कद्चितदुःख भाग भवेत्"

They meant to say, "All the people should be happy, everybody should be without anxiety, everybody should look hale and hearty, and nobody should suffer from any short of ailment."

The purpose of this National seminar is to spread the message of peace love, brotherhood, sympathy, kindness, tolerance and peace among the people of the society. Its purpose is to make them aware of their rights and duties so that they can prove themselves a true citizen of the country.
